K. C. AGRAWAL

M E S S A G E

I admire, praise and worship people engaged in rehabilitation service to the physically handicapped persons of India. A disabled is not cared for even by his family members whereas it is most needed. Schemes invented by the Society for their rehabilitation will make them feel that they are useful persons who can serve the Society and country. It is this feeling which has to be brought in amongst the disabled. The various schemes and programmes invented by the Society to help them by starting STD/ISD/Xerox/FAX and Computerised information is highly praiseworthy.

I bow my head in reverence for the activities indulged in by the Society for rehabilitation of disabled persons. Service to human being is service to God. Those who serve God are awarded by Him. I feel great pleasure for having been asked to give message on this occasion.
